Statues of Abraham Lincoln

Charles J. Mulligan
Chicago

Oakwoods Cemetery

Excerpts from newspapers and other sources

From the files of the Lincoln Financial Foundation Collection

A very faint, large watermark-like image of a classical statue, possibly a bust of a man, is centered in the background. The statue is on a tall, fluted pedestal. The entire image is in grayscale and has a soft, out-of-focus appearance.

VETERANS OF TWO WARS JOIN IN SERVICES AT OAKWOODS CEMETERY.

Square post, No. 232, American Legion, Chicago Veterans' association, and Lincoln post, No. 91, G. A. R., in front of the Lincoln statue in the south side burial ground.

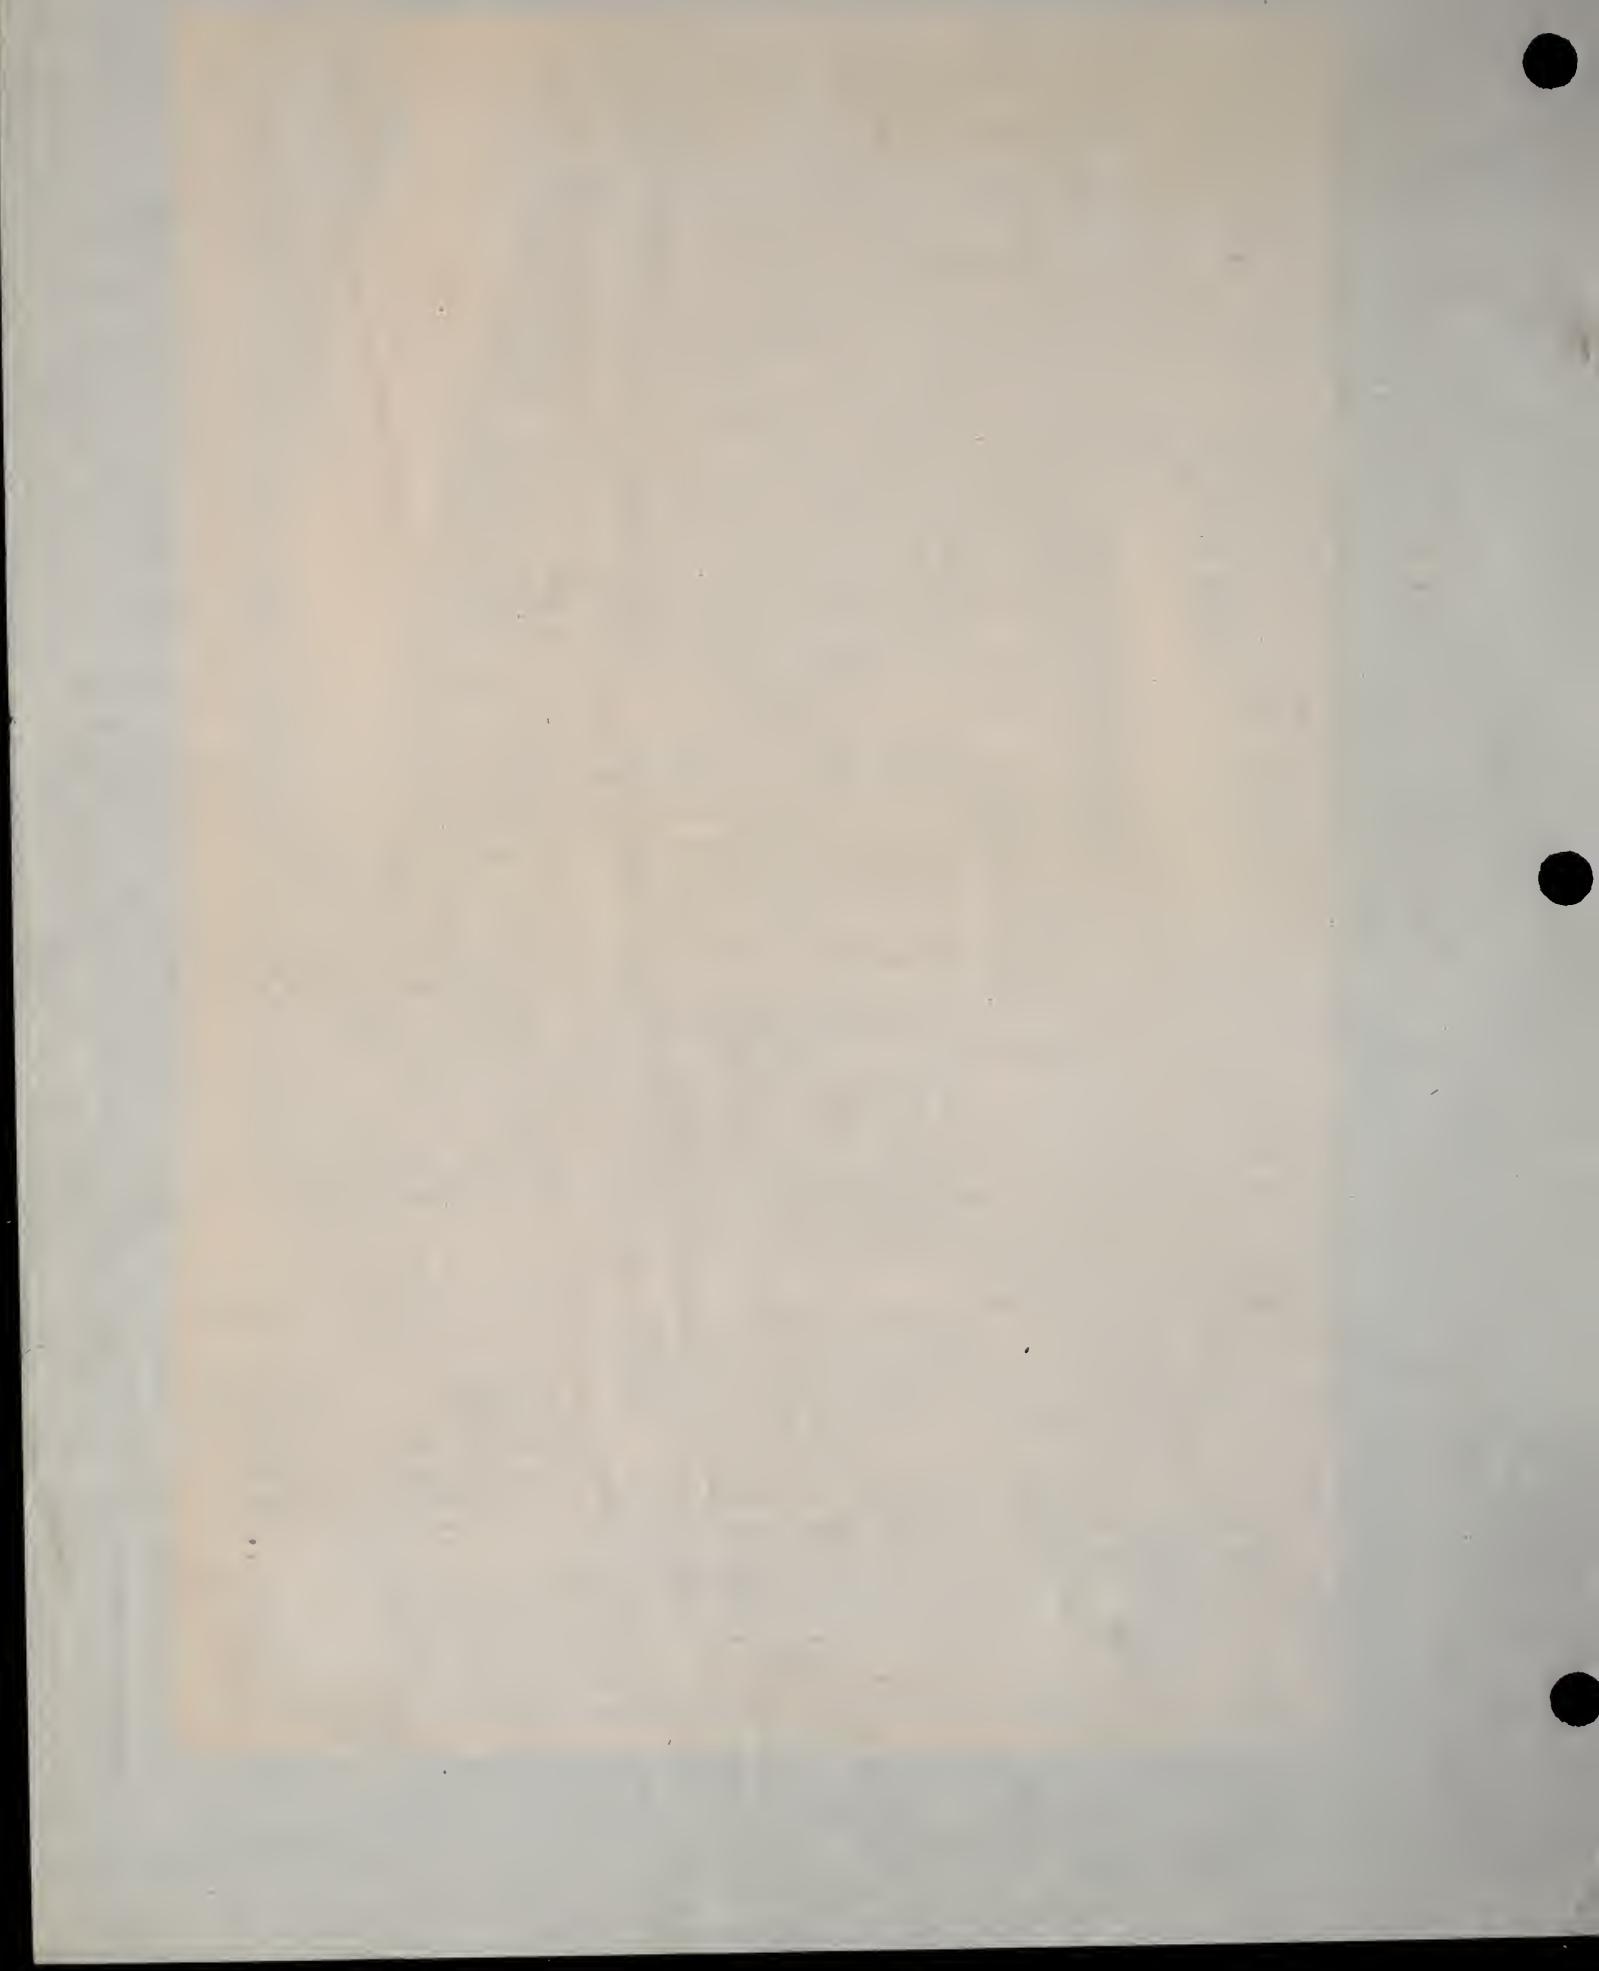

DECORATION DAY 1928

"THAT THIS NATION SHALL NOT PERISH"—Members of Abraham Lincoln Post of the G. A. R., gathered yesterday at the Lincoln statue in Oakwood Cemetery, while a squad from Square Post of the American Legion fired a salute. The civil war veterans were Frank Munfelt, C. W. Hecox, George Spicer and J. J. Sepel. It isn't Memorial Day without a tribute to Lincoln. In agreement with President Coolidge, who spoke yesterday at Gettysburg, these veterans hope that "these brave men shall not have died in vain." But for Lincoln's leadership yesterday's observance might have had a much different meaning to this country.

Gentlemen:

Your letter of the 10th asking for information regarding the Lincoln statue here is received.

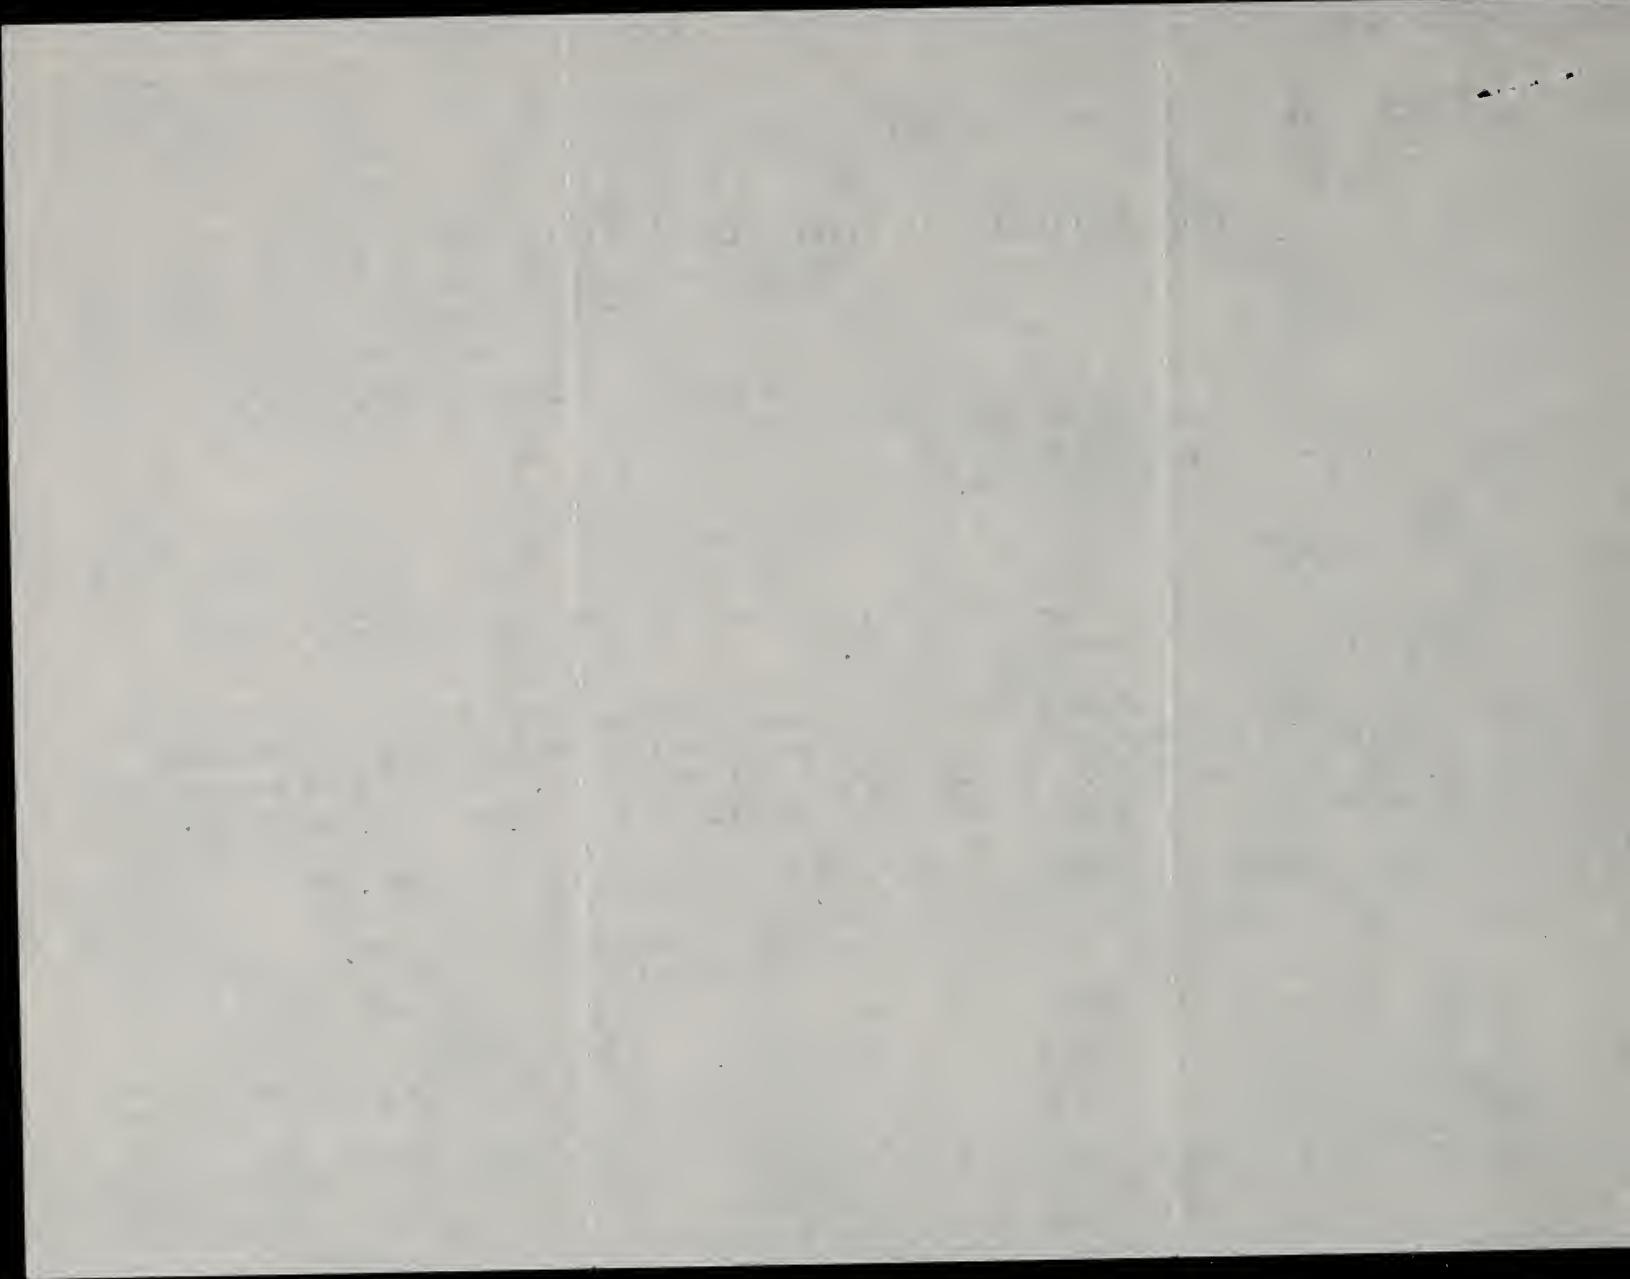

The Lincoln statue on the Abraham Lincoln Post #91 lot is a replica of the "Lincoln at Gettysburg" which is the work of Charles J. Mulligan, formerly at the Art Institute here. This replica was erected in 1905 by permission of the authorities at Pana, Illinois.

We trust this is the information you are looking for.

Very truly yours,
THE OAK WOODS CEMETERY ASS'N.

Superintendent.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 2nd is received.

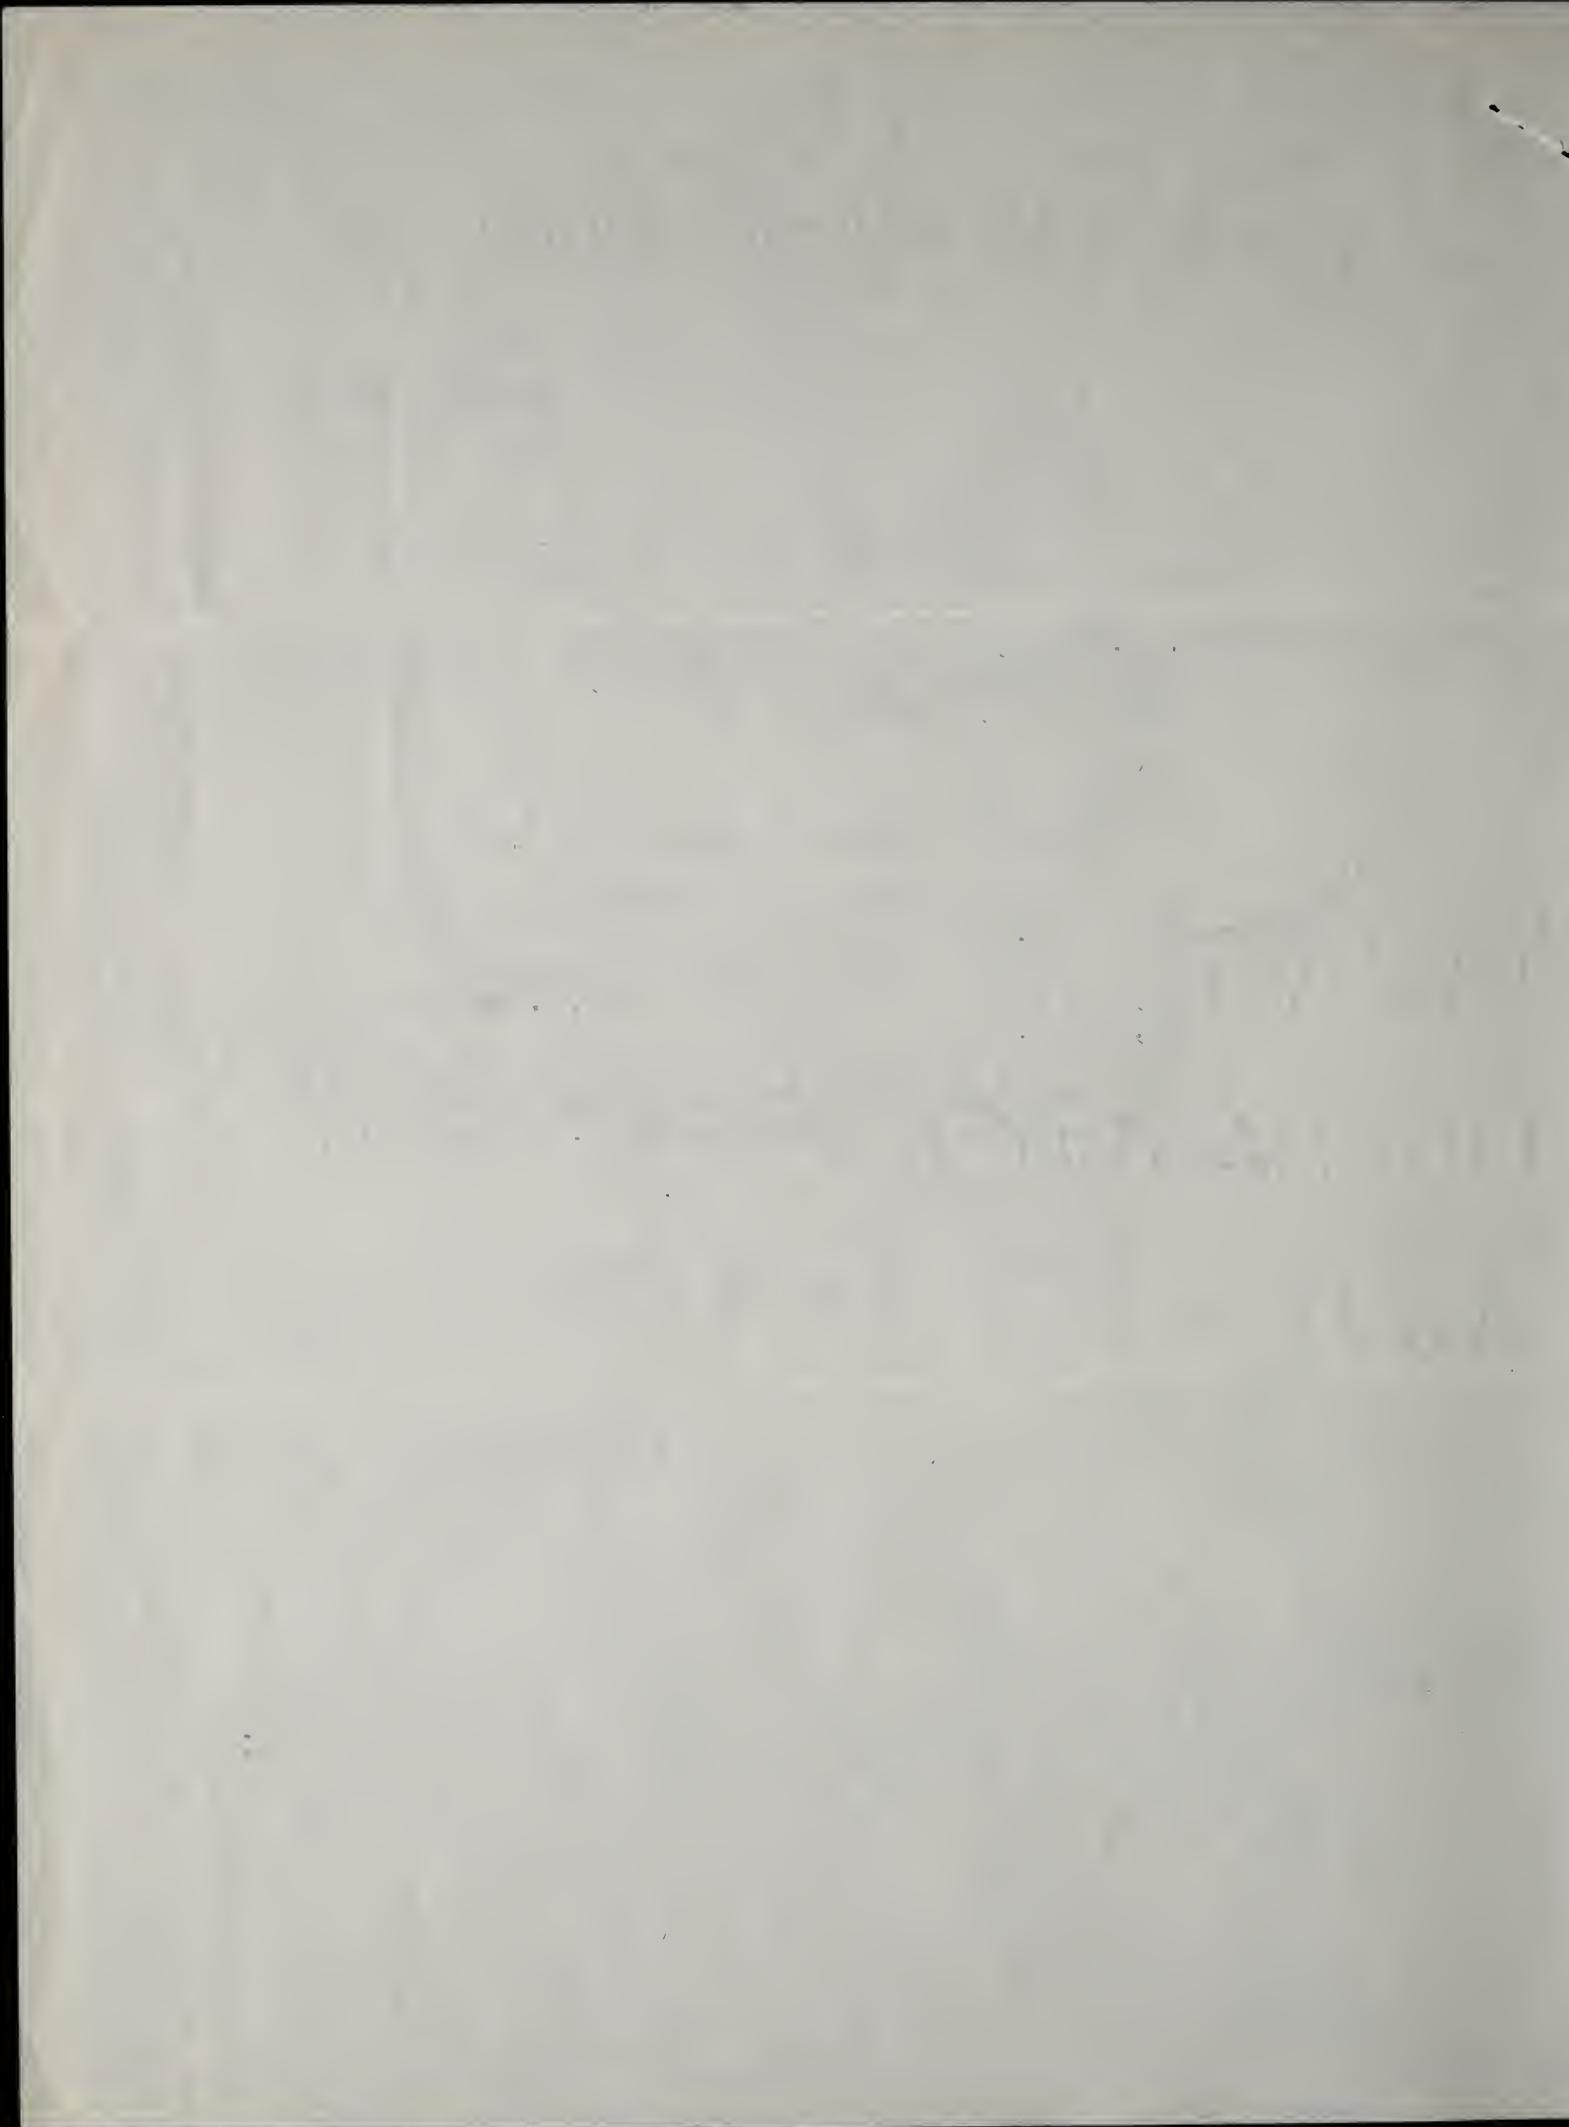

The Mulligan statue of Lincoln was erected June 14, 1905. The inscription on the front of the die supporting the statue reads "Abraham Lincoln Post 91, Department of Illinois, G.A.R. erected June 14, 1905."

The inscription on the back reads "Replica Statue of Lincoln by permission of J. W. Kitchell, Pana, Illinois."

Very truly yours,
THE OAK WOODS CEMETERY ASS'N.

Superintendent.
